

Alumni Spotlight: Advancing Mental Health Equity

May is Mental Health Month. It's a time to focus on building public understanding of mental illness, increasing access to treatment, and reducing stigma.

As the Interim Director of the Kennedy-Satcher Center for Mental Health Equity, Rollins alumna Sharon Rachel 05PH spends her days advocating for equitable treatment of mental health and substance disorders.

Academic Dean Retires

After 40 years at Rollins one of the founding pillars of our school, Dr. Richard Levinson, has retired. A tireless advocate for our faculty and an inspiring teacher to our students, we will miss his wise counsel and steady leadership.

Dick's investment in Rollins has not ended with his retirement, however. He recently established the Richard M. Levinson, PhD Teaching Fund for faculty support. We hope you'll consider a gift in his honor.

Career Tip: Paying it Forward

It is easy to put up our blinders and become solely focused on our own career; concentrating on how to get that promotion, raise, or dream job. But it's just as important to reflect on who helped you along in your career and take some time to pay it forward to the next generation. READ MORE
